Dear Bishop Kennedy,

While hesitating to interfere, I thought it might be of interest to you to know that Fr Brian Yates told me in Canberra that he would be very happy to welcome John Farrell to his 'house of hospitality' in Sydney. I guess you know of this house which has accomodation for priests who are wanting time to be alone or recover from some difficulty while living in a community atmosphere. It may not be what John needs, but the offer is there if needed.

The other information to hand is through Sr Evelyn Woodward of Maitland Diocese. She has a contact in Sydney: Mr Peter Causer, REDACTED Waverley.Ph. 02-REDACTED. Apparently, he can refer people in John's position to an eminent Professor of Psychology at Sydney University who works at the Prince Alfred Hospital in this area, and is supposed to be very good.

As I say, I hesitate to interfere; but the information may be useful.

I am told that the trial will be in Narrabri in September.

If I can be of help in any way at all, please let me know. I shall be in Townsville for a Ministry to Priests retreat from Sept.7-11th; then in Canberra for a Board Meeting on Sept.14th. But apart from that, will be around.

With assurance of special mention in Mass and Prayer, especially on Thursdays,

Cheers,
