

After many rewarding years of teaching

Adrian Nisbett

has decided to resign from Knox to accept a position with the Cheetah Conservation Fund in Namibia. Adrian has previously travelled to Namibia to help in the conservation of Cheetahs and his passion to protect them from extinction is well known.

I wish Adrian all the best for this new vocation

John W Weeks
Headmaster

21 September 2004