

22 October 1997

26.

Mr Adrian Nisbett
STAFF

Dear

It seems odd writing to you as you know full well my admiration of your skilful work with this year's Sixth Form. You have reached a pinnacle of success allowed few in teaching. You have won deserved accolades, beyond expectation, with that sustained standing ovation from so many in the Hilton Hotel. You have been blessed with a real response from your boys and parents which others may deserve but never quite congeals into affective action. You have been uniquely complimented and it is a shame that those moments of amazing response are already confined in distant memory without record. It is, you will forgive me, the best of Mr Chips and I hope you develop more as your time at Knox must continue to provide such opportunities. You are uniquely placed - single, with time available to tap into a Year group, and to exploit this advantage. And you have done it so well with this group of 'friends'. Well done. Thank you! See you at the 10 year re-union - not before!

Yours sincerely

(Dr) Ian Paterson AM
Headmaster