

7th March, 1995.

Mr. A. Nisbett,
STAFF.

Dear

Let me say, before too late (!) that your counsel to me has been especially wise over the years. We have been on a remarkably agreed wavelength - so many of your comments and suggestions mirror my own feelings. I don't know how this happened - but it did, to my benefit and that of Knox.

You have a remarkable rapport with boys, made more acceptably deepened as you've got older. You are, with respect, a 'Mr. Chips' in its very best form. For a man who has 'married' Knox Grammar School, that is our privilege and benefit. Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

(Dr.) Ian Paterson, AM
