concerned about a possible moral issue, or at least inappropriate behaviour," on the phone.

PRESIDING MEMBER: Did you mention on whose part?

MS LITCHFIELD: Did you say by Bob Brandenburg?

MR McGLENNON: I can't recall.

PRESIDING MEMBER: What did he say to all that?

MR McGLENNON: Because I was very upset by this time.

MS CRAWFORD: What about when - - -

MR McGLENNON: He said, "You have your meeting."

And whether he came up as a response to that or whether by then the other things from Menzies - he certainly came up, looked all over the property and listened to me.

PRESIDING MEMBER: And did you raise the Brandenburg issue?

MR McGLENNON: I can't tell you whether I named him. I can't recall how far I went. I don't want to over - we're not setting out to be heroes here.

PRESIDING MEMBER: Okay. Now, Val, that really covers what I wanted to pursue for myself. Are there any other aspects that occur to you that might be of interest to our inquiry?

MS CRAWFORD: The only other one I could think of then was when Bill Hartwig said to you about, "What about the boy who was seen in the car, getting into Bob Brandenburg's car that day?"

MR McGLENNON: That came later. There was a phone call well in - near the end of all this fiasco.

MS CRAWFORD: Was it?

MR McGLENNON: I think it was after I'd been given notice.

PRESIDING MEMBER: Could you tell us about that?
