Dear Phillip,

Thanks for the invite - almost had me tempted - but I'll request that the parents forward the next edition of Church News post haste instead. Pity the photos won't be up to the standards of ten years ago...!

Regarding your comment concerning church camps, I feel I should set your worried mind at ease. After a period of extensive reflection I am mortified to advise that there is nought to tell - especially after your esteemed self went to bed - do you really think there was much to wait up for...?!!

A sense of irony became apparent ✓ on the embarkment of the infamous Queensland CEBS leaders' Convention. I overheard a concerned mother whispering

Consecration

to a unique individual.

to another, "I don't know about Sue sharing a cabin with three boys." She shared it with four on the way back and the conspiracy of denial had begun.

Advice for a soon-to-be consecrated (what does that mean??) person:

The karmic wheel does indeed spin and stops regardlessly.

I'm sure Jesus had a parable about it somewhere that never quite made it into print!

All the best Bish - and that's the last time I'll call you that. Sue.
