

Re: Promise

I seem to have gotten myself into a difficult position. At the meeting with R & CA they were asking that PC not be involved in any further claims for NCCH. I have obviously left them with the thought that I have made a promise that this would be so.

I have reflected upon the situation:

I think on one hand I was trying to find a way forward and was wanting to keep them on board.

On the other hand my mind was viewing their asking in terms of face-to-face interaction. I was thinking that I or someone else could be the face-to-face mediator.
