Dear Gilbert

I am writing to you to outline the policy of the Diocese towards indemnity of staff in circumstances where staff may be the subject of litigation arising from duties they carry out in the course of their employment.

The Diocese indemnifies its employees against litigation of this kind except where the actions arise from dishonesty or from fraudulent or criminal act or omission by the employee.

Because this indemnity is provided to employees, it is most important that employees not make admissions of liability without authorisation from the Diocese.

You may communicate this policy to your staff if you think it would assist them at this time.

Yours sincerely

B YORKE
GENERAL MANAGER
