

On 1st March, 1986, I rang Gardenvale to arrange the ~~requested~~ appointment requested by R. Pickering in his letter of 27th February,.

I was informed that he had just been visited by the doctor who had sedated.

He advised me that it was unnecessary for us to meet.

We spoke of supplies; he had done nothing. He indicated that he was prepared to do something. There seemed to be little conviction; I told him that Peter Connors had made arrangements.

His tune was quite different from that of his letter of 27th February. Once again, he followed a pattern which has regularly surfaced in my dealings with me: he puts all his hurtful and malicious and incorrect accusations or allegations in his letters and then apologises for what he has written viva voce.

HE raised the accusation made in the letter of 27th Feb. re Corr and Corr. He identified the correspondence when Michael Pope was to be charged, spoke how Michael had hurt him so much, and indicated that I was really receiving the spin-off of that hurt.

Etc. etc. etc.
