Mr. REDACTED
REDACTED
SUNBURY. Vic.

Dear Mr. REDA,

Your recent letter in which you have wished to share with me certain matters of concern to you has been received.

The way in which you have written seems to be an indication of how you have been touched deeply by the circumstances as you have described them.

You will understand that I, through my Regional Bishops, Consultors and advisers continually monitor the progress of the various parishes within the Archdiocese.

I can understand how it is difficult for every priest to fulfil the expectations of every parishioner entrusted to his pastoral care. Your Parish Priest is ably helped by his Assistant Priest to minister to the needs of your Parish.

The matters you have raised with me will be given further consideration by me in discussion with my advisers.

With cordial greetings and every good wish,

I remain,

Sincerely yours in Christ,

ARCHBISHOP OF MELBOURNE
