Dear Bishop John,

Please find attached my most recent account for counselling, as well as a letter from my psychologist Ms. Lynn O' Donoghue.

Due to personal and family commitments I will be unable to access further counselling for the next few weeks. Should you have any further queries regarding my ongoing counselling needs during this time, or should you require a full professional report, please make your request to Ms. O' Donoghue, directly, in writing, stating quite clearly what specific, additional information you require. Ms. O' Donoghue has provided this brief, interim statement (attached), at no cost. However, a full professional report takes a great deal of time to prepare and she would need to charge professional costs for this to be done should you require further information.

Yours sincerely,

Joan Isaacs
