

Professional Standards

From: Tony Fuller [Tony.Fuller@emalegal.com.au]
Sent: Tuesday, 20 April 2004 10:01 AM
To: Professional Standards
Subject: RE: Ongoing dispute

Dear Sue,

Perhaps using the door of the Cathedral as a medium for the exchange of information would be less emotive and more reasonable for everyone!

Good luck
kind regards
Tony

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Professional Standards [SMTP:sue.cain@adelaide.catholic.org.au]
> Sent: Tuesday, 20 April 2004 8:35 AM
> To: tony.fuller@emalegal.com.au
> Subject: FW: Ongoing dispute

> Dear Tony,
> I thought that you may like to see this email from the Family 2 They > will receive my letter tomorrow, so stay tuned!
> Sue.

> -----Original Message-----
> From: LS & LR REDACTED
> Sent: Monday, 19 April 2004 3:44 PM
> To: Professional Standards
> Subject: Ongoing dispute

> Dear Sue,
> On the 8 April when we spoke to you regarding the Archbishop's response to > our query about the Towards Healing process, you undertook to write to us.
> 11 days on and we are still waiting. After two and a half years of trying > to engage with the Church and then after a letter from the Archbishop > eventually inviting us finally to engage, there still seems to be > reluctance to communicate. This lack of response is consistent with all of > our dealings with the Church so far, and certainly is not within the > "spirit and principle of Towards Healing".

> Perhaps we should go to the Cathedral and nail our issues to the door!

> Regards,
> LR and LS
> [Redacted] [Redacted]