

TUESDAY- Note in box
Wednesday- InterviewCONVERSATION WITH REDACTED AND REDACTED

149

Told of Pr's dislike for them and others.

Desks in far corner, favourites seated near Pr's desk, he sat with them sometimes.
Let favourites come but to his desk frequently.

ACU out nearly all time - hardly any work done but they had to fill two story books. She & Pr played cards, sat together, talked with him.

REDACT helped do the Personal Reports. Sat on his knee on his chair. One time REDACT locked up and Pr was massaging ACU around the neck, and then lower (this was established to be around chest area and outside clothing) but Pr stopped when he saw me locking.

They said: REDACT said she walked in to Pr's room at lunch time one day and REDACT was the only one there. Pr was massaging ACU around the shoulder. He saw REDACT and stopped. REDACT says she thinks ACU was sexually assaulted. We don't know. (I saw REDACT the next day and she repeated that same story without any prompting from me).

They said: Pr used to treat the boys really badly

Hit with blackboard ruler, across knuckles, never hit us but frightened us when he banged the ruler down on desk and just missed our fingers.

Threw chalk, blackboard dusters, balls at the boys when they talked.

(Children described how Pr would line the tennis and cricket balls up on his desk and throw one when the person was talking)

They also said Pr would play sword fights with some of the boys and choke them (demonstrated on themselves) so that the boys had to say they would give in before he would stop. Sometimes the boys tried not to give in

They said: Favourites had heard tapes with Pr's earphones (In a conversation with REDACT and REDACT they talked about some of the special group listening to the tapes but they were never allowed and the others wouldn't tell what was on them) Everyone was wondering what was on the tapes. The children on the earphones would laugh a lot. This happened at the desk, and on many occasions.

They said: Pr made them write their thoughts about other children in the class and about teachers. Then he put them on his desk and told them he would tell Sr Julia what they had written if they didn't behave.

(This led into the talking about times they and other children went as a group to ask Pr to treat them better. They talked about Pr saying that if they complained again he would get ACU to tell Sr Julia on them. They all thought this would get them into terrible trouble.

(REDACT had previously told me about some of the class taking a petition to Pr to get their rights. He didn't mention the threats or reveal what exactly Pr said or did. On Monday, a number of boys who