were in Mrs Fitness's class told her about Br warning them not to say anything about him or others or they would be in trouble with Sr Julia. They asked Mrs Fitness if this was abuse because they thought it was. They then revealed a number of incidents which they felt very angry about. They mentioned most of the things that I have reported [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] as talking about.)

All these children kept referring to the events as "What happened in Br Gregory's class last year" or similar words. Some said they told parent and were not believed or didn't seem to be believed. A couple of children said their parents did make complaints.

Another event that many of these children have spoken about was their Year Five camp in October. They had very negative things to say about the ways they were treated and compared it to the way ACU was treated. Br was said to be with her nearly all the time. She drove his car by sitting on his knee. [REDACTED] was in the car at this time in the back. ([REDACTED] had told me in a prior conversation in March, that [REDACTED] drove Br's car sitting on his lap also.)

In subsequent conversations with [REDACTED], [REDACTED], [REDACTED], [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] most of the above information was also given by the children. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] didn't mention any threats and were boardering between saying how great his actions were and "maybe he shouldn't have done some" They also spoke of Br's possible abuse of ACU and talked very briefly about Br playing tickles with them. On the ribs, [REDACTED] said and showed with ^{her} hands. [REDACTED] said she didn't always like Br ticking but he still did it and it was all right. They liked Br. He was funny. He told them stories. (When I asked if they would tell me one of the stories they couldn't think of one so I asked if any of the stories would be ones they thought rude. They said that they were good stories but a few were a bit bad. They then corrected this and said that only one or two weren't good and the rest were.

*One of the tapes was " Kevin 'Bloody" Wilson. [REDACTED] gave this information. We think she got the information from [REDACTED] who is a good friend .
