

29th October '98

Dear RED,

I hope I've got this right – you've paid Jane's accounts – totaling $400 – and the cheque is to you for reimbursement. I've taken copies and return the originals to you – as you'd previously requested.

I'm pleased we were finally able to talk on the phone. The pain of what has happened – and then having to deal with it in such a public manner and at a time not of your choosing – seems enormous. I only hope that for your sake – and everyone else's – it is resolved sooner rather than later.

Please do not be concerned about 'saving money' – see the counsellor that best helps you cope with and deal with all the issues.

I do hope we can talk again. And – as I mentioned – the offer of counselling can also extend to your family. I am so sorry this is causing you so much pain for you all.

Best wishes,

Anne Czekanski

P.S. keep up the poetry – I'm enjoying reading it.