Dear Sister Di-Anne,

REDACTED and I arrived back in Brisbane in one piece, about 3pm Saturday. It was really nice to see you and Phillip again and to go out to Neerkol and have a look around but because I didn't feel the best during my trip up there, I didn't spend the time I would have liked to out there or take the time to look at everything I wanted to look at. In fact my short trip XXX there has left me with a feeling of dis-satisfaction, as if I had not done everything I wanted to do.

Although I didn't show it at the time, I was very disappointed

At not being able to have the bell and although I know you meant well by giving me the picture, as a substitute, it means nothing to me. The bell held memories for me of my childhood the picture does not. As I've told you before, many times, all the other children I know of have photos of themselves as children I don't, I have nothing from my childhood and I believe that I should at least been given the bell as a memento, that's why I asked you for it such a long time ago and I know it means more to me then whoever you are now going to give it too.

Could you please give me the name of the Sister you introduced me to at Neerkol I found her to be very nice to myself and REDACTED when we were out there and I would like to write her a short note in thanks.

Because of the feeling that I didn't do and see everything I wanted to on my brief trip

Up there, recently, I am going to try and make the effort to come back up there again soon and take more time to see everything.

I believe, also that Tattie Hinely is still alive and living in Bethony Home and I would really like to have gone out and visited her. I also understand that my brother is not in the best of health and I would have liked to have gone and seen him also, but because I myself, was unwell I didn't feel up to doing either, on my recent brief trip but would like to make the time to do both if I can get back up there again soon but I suppose it all depends on how I feel myself.

If Neerkol is out of your hands by the time I am able to get back up there, ill speak to the company who take it over and see if they'll let me go and have another look.

All the best to you & Phillip in the near future, yours faithfully, AYN
