

CONVERSATION WITH SUE SHARKEY, CARELINK
30 JANUARY 1997

Re the Foster family - recently we have been paying a number of accounts on their behalf. How long should this continue without assessment? Although the Professor and Tony Foster have spoken in a friendly way it is the Professor's professional belief that at the appropriate time, assessment should be made of the family situation as well as of the girl to see how much of the girl's condition is a result of the offence. I instructed them to continue paying at least for the present and to think about the possibility of some alternative person who might be delegated for this instance to assess the situation seeing the Fosters seem to be uneasy with Professor Ball.
