Your Grace,

Just a brief note to keep you posted in regard to Father Fasciale and the counselling situation.

Since I saw him in January he has phoned once and reported this morning for an interview. He has dutifully read through several hundred pages of "Psychodynamics of Personality Development" by Devlin, S.J. I have given him this book in order to help him identify himself. He has found it quite painful to realize that physically and intellectually he has probably matured with his age but that emotionally he was arrested at a much younger age - 18 to 20 year old level. I think that it is important for this sort of identification to take place because it is only then that he will know at what level he must start in order to make progress in the future. I can assure you that there will be other books along this line, which will have to be read in the coming months.

We also discussed his work in the parish and the disappointment of not being assigned a parish. In an attempt and hope of preventing any bitterness developing in him, I pointed out the reasonableness of the action taken. We also discussed his prayer life, which I would hope to strengthen over the coming months.

I will continue to keep you informed as Father comes in each month.

Respectfully,

Rev. Daniel H. Winters S.M.
