I am just catching up on this one. I would certainly be happy to assist in this matter. Does he have an attorney, medical or otherwise, at the Villa or elsewhere? In canonical terms, we would be talking about a procurator or a proxy. It would surprise me if something along these lines was not put into place as a matter of course, as many of these priests are in failing health. Mons Redden springs to mind as a suitable person, but the issues here are complex.

John

Do you think Fr John Doherty would have the right to request as Chancellor? Or would it need to be a relative of Fr Duggan?

If Fr JD can request the records I can draft a letter for him to run by you and HG.

Thanks

Dominic,
I think the medical notes from the nursing home relating to the assessment of his ability to function would be sufficient, but someone authoritative would need to request them.
