Dear John

I deeply apologise if in any way I have given the impression of being discourteous or have made you feel disrespected. Apart from being on leave, as you know many other things are happening.

Nevertheless with the passage of time, I am happy to meet with you.

Could we get together in the PSO Office, as we used to, sometime shortly.

You might let me know your availability before Christmas

Yours sincerely

Dear Mike

We are still waiting for a date.

We have been patient, but feel disrespected by this lack of response.

If Mons John is too busy, then we need someone else who can speak with us, for example, whoever approved the letter that was sent to us.

Can you please respond to this request as soon as possible.

Warm regards
 John
