Hello Jacqueline,

Just to keep you up to date.

I have received a call from Detective Sergeant Brent FLETCHER from Wagga Wagga Detectives this afternoon, advising that Maitland Detectives flew to Kathryn a few weeks ago, interviewed ADAMS, and have issued 5 Court Attendance Notices (CAN's) to appear at Maitland Local Court, Thursday 1st May 2014. The charges were not disclosed. Brent is hoping that he can get paper work finalised from the Department of Public Prosecution so he too can serve more Notices on ADAMS this week for his matters.

I am of some mixed emotions, and I doubt I can attend Court that day, as I fear what I could say/do.

As this matter is now going before the Courts, I want CJE [REDACTED]'s details protected as at the time she was under 18; and also respect the right to protect our details too so she can not be identified through that.

Are you able to advise what 'rights' if any does ADAMS have in respect to defence i.e. legal aid from Defence? Etc

I am praying so hard that the full force of the law is thrown at this 'person' and Karma is not kind.

You have no idea what this has done to me personally, I can not speak for CJE [REDACTED]'s father, but I do know he will be attending the Court on Thursday. My husband will most likely not attend, as I would fear what he could do/say too.

We will be in Court the day he answers the charges though.....
