You will recall from our previous correspondence that it was proposed to review access to funding for psychological support for yourself and CJE's paternal father.

On 1 April 2015 I provided advice that the provision of further funding for psychological support was extended to 31 May 2015 to provide an opportunity for you to achieve referral to an appropriate long term support service or another support agency of your choosing. You have since advised that you intend to remain with your current provider and that you wish further consultation regarding the funding of your ongoing care.

As part of that consultation, I invite you to provide me with any information you consider to be relevant to warrant a potential further extension of funding for psychological support to yourself.

I intend to advise you of my final determination as soon as practical and would appreciate your response at your nearest opportunity. To provide you suitable time to provide advice, please also be advised I have extended your current funding for psychological support until 31 July 2015.

I hope you will find this further extension of benefit and look forward to your response.
