so was i just hearing things? that [REDA] bickered about me, and also just heard that [REDA] [REDACTE] told me that [REDA] knows about the incident in janurary? or is [REDACTE] just a lazy person (trying to be polite in this email) that doesnt want to take action against [REDACTE]

i dont really care about this investigation, because ive just given up, but yeah

Good morning CJF ,

My apologies for not responding earlier.....your email was accidentally picked up by my SPAM filter for some reason. I noted your second message today via another email system and hence the reply.

I have all but completed the investigation but I need to finalise the documentation and submit it to the OC for review. I will say however that information from witnesses and others was almost non-existent. This meant that coming to a clear and concise conclusion as to the events was difficult.

Gmail - RE: Investigation

My reports are always evidence based and whilst in many instances both parties have a particular view as to an incident, without clear and supported evidence such as witness statements it can be difficult to determine a finding.

I intend to have the matter closed prior to the end of November.

Also, I would like to wish you all the best with your HSC as I would expect you are now undertaking exams. This is an incredibly important time in your life so try to stay focused and let the AAFC take a back seat for a while. Best of luck.
