Peter,

There is no argument, Paul Arblaster conceded yesterday, that he thought he had sent it, but noticed that he had not.

As for the "no need" to send you the affidavit, I saw him yesterday before forwarding the affidavit to you, and it was as a result of that conference that he suggested I send it to you, perhaps a change of mind, I don't know.

The timetable you suggest seems to fit in within our timetable, so that the affidavit can be settled on Monday, and perhaps if you are available during the afternoon on Monday, we can make an appointment for you to attend and swear it.

Subject Re: Biles maxwell affidavit as of 21 April

Angelo,

I did not receive any email from Paul Arblaster after 21 April.

Perhaps I might suggest that Paul checks his "sent" emails given that if he has sent an email, then a serious disclosure of private information has occurred. It has been sent to the wrong address. The sent emails will identify the incorrect address he sent it to and if this has occurred then I suggest that urgent inquiries with the "receiver" of this private information should swiftly occur.

I might also advise that during conference Paul told Jodie and I that "there was no need for me to send you the affidavit". This comment being on the basis of me sending information to Jodie (done on 27 & 28 April) that he would complete the affidavit with that information and I would attend to swear the completed affidavit.

In any event I can indicate that I have an appointment this morning, that I have worked my way thru the document to page 19 (using the information already sent to Jodie) and will get it to you today.

Peter

Peter,

I enclose the updated version of your affidavit, which Paul Arblaster thought he had sent to you following the conference with him on 21 April 2011

It includes editing notes identifying the sections to be completed by you. Counsel requests that you complete those parts as soon as possible.

Would you please endeavour to complete it by the close of business on Friday with a view to having you swear it on Monday afternoon.

May I impress on you the urgency of the matter given that we are before the Court next Wednesday and need to serve it beforehand.
