

SP

Shishy,

Tops on you for writing us letters.

It was something that cheered a dreary day.

Last night most of the kids went up to Darshan and danced till nine thirty. Even APQ and REDACTED joined in for a bit.

APK and APB didn't though.

Me, APA and APK asked

Mukti the other night if we ride around the block because bored. Just as we reached storm with heaves of thunder blew over so we ran into but he was not home. He left the side door open so we got in and watched until the storm blew over. It was way past dinner and APA was worried <sup>(because she has to eat)</sup> so we made dinner at APD's. I'll tell you what we had but don't spew. We had baked beans

(yuk yuk!) and two pieces of white bread toast

with marg on them (puke!) and a fried egg sloppy) and a cup of hot chocolate.

As a payment to APD we made his bed and cleaned his kitchen.

You must be wondering if APD minded. APA is sure he wouldn't because she has done it before and he said that she was welcome anytime. We left a note for him.

After that we went for a swim in the dam at sunset. It was beautiful.

Then we rode back as it was getting dark around 8:30.

I'll tell you it was a tops way to spend a boring afternoon. I have made sure that we don't tell anyone except AQA

about it because I know it would not

When
- explain to
- in
- horse?

be very good if all the kids wanted to do it. REDACTED tried to follow us so we piss bolted out the gate man. Fancy having her of all B.M.s following us. <sup>Struth.</sup>

Me and the other two think will do it once or twice again. One day when Swamiji isn't here and APD is on night shift do you want to (as Gripank-shiki) go up for a swim in the dam at sunset? It's unreal.

Mokini went out to grass today. Before she half way out the gate she started eating little tufts of grass. She walks away from you when you go near her because she thinks you are going to put her away.

When I groomed her this morning she had masses of hair and dirt coming off.

Are you having fun? I guess you don't think about fun when Paramahansa ji is there.

Guess what? APA tried to jump on the rock at high tide and kick the whole nail off her second toe on one of her feet. It's really gory. Guess what? APA kicked the same toe ~~and~~ the corner of a bit of wood not long after she kicked the nail off. Guess what? she nearly died of pain. Guess what? By the time she's finished her feet will look like steak and kidney pie. Guess what? APA was sick this morning. Guess what? APA had a pounding headache when she woke up. Guess what? APA is dead. (wouldn't be surprise would you)

Last night me and APA went for a late night swim and she asked me if she could sleep in the stables with me because she didn't want to walk all the way up to Dorsham. At first I said not but then I said yes because I thought you wouldn't mind. Do you? I won't let her again. It was just for last night

Do I sound like a sensible young girl who knows what she's doing and has the consequences full in mind of everything she's doing? I hope so because that's what I'm trying to sound like. gulp!!

Is there anything you want done for when you get back. Just ring and say so. (not that you wouldn't any way.)

Actually I'm glad that we went for that bike ride because we weren't here for the cucumber fight in the kitchen (phew!) though I can guarantee that wouldn't have involved myself in it. any way but being somewhere else at the right time is always safe.

I was craving and craving for chocolate the day you left and then the next day I got the block of chocolate you left me. Thanks man.

I don't have much more today so sayya later. Idud lud. Give the bossin a kiss forme.

P.S Your vision of an entirely vandalised stable, crush and caral isn't far from right. She finish off her job on the crush yesterday morning w/ APQ fixed it up. I'll ask him to hammer the stable back together before you come back.

P.T.O.

!!! THE BLOODY RED BASTARD STRIKES AGAIN!!! AAAAH!!!

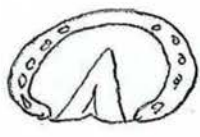

No actually he's been good as gold except yesterday when he was impatient to get out he knocked the slip rail and its copper holdings off. I told him off good and proper and he stands there patiently now but with an "I'll get you back" sneer on his face. But the indeheatable Dobloug, heroine of the show, aint afraid. I'm ready for his kill. (sneer! Equip?) Snisny!
No its not as bad as that really.

XO XO..

I love you

I forgot to tell you this letter is from

APL

Mohini (says hello)

APL 