Hi Andrew,

The email below has come through from the website via Elaine.

I have not forwarded it to Stephen as yet, thought I would send it you first for thoughts/action and if you are happy for me to hold it along with all of Stephen's other emails received over the holidays which will be forwarded to him on Friday, or if you are happy to handle/deal or sit on until next week?

Dear Sir, I'm an OGG. I must say first up, I'm one of GG's students that failed year 12. My failure has nothing to do with your school, and nothing to do with my capacity to learn. But I do have an issue with some treatment while I was attending Geelong Grammar, and I want to address it now. I've finally plucked up the courage to do so. In 1991, an English teacher, my English teacher, made sexual advances towards me...Mr^{BLR}. When I reported this to another teacher (who was at the time house master of Perry) whom I thought trustworthy and might help me at the time, I was told not to worry about it; that Mr^{BLR} had done it before and that it was an 'innocent' act and not harmful! I was told that the (open mouthed) kiss and sexual handling of my thigh would not go any further and that I should not take the matter any further as it had been raised with the principle and would not happen again to another! Just wondering what you might have to say about this...it obviously does not rest well with me after 20 years. Please reply! I'd really like an honest and caring response. I've had enough bullshit in my life and would love to finally put this piece of abuse to bed. I'm not at all libelous, I'm wanting some closure. Kind regards^{BLB}
