This is a strange and painful call into the distance.
My son was at Glamorgan throughout his junior years in the 70s.

I wanted you to know that John Buckley abused my son among other boys back then, and that he continued to offend after he left teaching and established himself as an art dealer.
He has now been charged and has recently pleaded guilty. The case goes to court in April although as far as I know, news has not yet found its way into the media.

Maybe you have had some indication from the police who investigated John's history.
It's a painful experience to live with all this as a mother. Terrible for a creative boy to carry through his life into adulthood. But of course you know the damage it does.

If you didn't know about John Buckley, it's probably best that you do.

Yours sincerely,

REDACTE
