DEVELOPMENT

In what areas is improvement necessary or desirable? _____

It is doubtful whether improvement is possible. He is a quick operator and a restless person. He is a constant voyager never stopping anywhere long enough to achieve anything worthwhile. He carries out his responsibilities in a perfunctory manner. However, he does manage to impress most parents, largely through his entertaining - which they probably pay for indirectly. He does little to improve the lives of those in his care.

Is it appropriate to be thinking of promotion or additional responsibility or transfer within the School? _____

He should serve out his time as a housemaster and somehow be encouraged to look for another job - School Teaching appeals to him because it provides generous holiday travel time.
