REDACTED

would like to have it on record that

BKF

[REDACTED] was a tower of strength to both [REDACTED] and his family over a two-year period while [REDACTED] lost his [REDACTED], and the subsequent trials and tribulations which followed. He was thoughtful and diligent in caring for him physically and emotionally provided [REDACTED] with unlimited friendship and support, even to the extent of cooking meals for him and having him to stay in his house.

[REDACTED] wife [REDACTED] was always smiling and hospitable, baking cakes and making coffee.

On the very many times I visited his study, I also noted the respect the other boys in the House held for him and how happy everyone was.
