Subject: Trip to Murwillumbah

Now I have your attention....

We have received a new file relating to an allegation of sexual assault by a doctor on two brothers back in the 1970's that we are investigating.

I have spoken to one of the brothers given him the run down on the difficulties with would have establishing the case. He said that both him and his brother would be willing to give a statement to us.

We have investigated the doctor for similar incidents that we didn't run it due to the time delay. I still think it is important to interview these two people.

Does someone feel like flying to Murwillumbah for the day? Due to the cost (and the low risk) I think only one person can go. You will have to get two signed statements plus a stat dec from them. You also get to have the file. If there is more then one taker, I will make a decision.

Let me know if you need any more information.
