TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

RE: JOHN O'CONNOR

John's first contract with our school was in a voluntary capacity in 1992. Since then, he has worked as a School Services Officer and hourly paid instructor.

John has worked closely with students with a wide range of disabilities in areas such as personal care, woodwork, P.E., classroom work (literacy and numeracy) and on many excursions in the wider community.

He has also been responsible for transport training work with an individual student, from home to school, using public transport. John has been a reliable colleague in stressful situations, such as when called upon by teachers to assist with students with behavioural problems. He has been a keen participant in meetings and training sessions and established a good rapport with other members of the school community - parents, volunteers, cleaners, access workers, staff of Minda Inc etc.

John has been willing to learn new skills (such as assisting students with vision impairments) and has shared his knowledge and advice with others. His artwork has been appreciated in the classroom and school newsletters.
