From the Headmaster

24 November 2003

Dear Adrian

I am writing to you with regard to our conversation last week. In that conversation I advised you that an allegation had been made with regard to inappropriate behaviour in regard to a boy who has since left the School.

During that conversation I requested of you that you not be alone with any boy at the School or in any other circumstances, including your own home. An external investigator will investigate the matter and this will take place as early as possible. It is my hope that this will be on Monday 24 November.

I would appreciate a note from you in which you agree to abide by the above requirements.

Yours sincerely
