Andrew,

Below is information about the incident ^{EAE} mentions in his email. I don't recall ^{CLC} mentioning the Corps Camp incident.

Regards,
Andrew

Andrew,

I have spoken with both boys involved (REDACTED) and CLC (REDACTED). I have also seen the long SMS exchange between the two boys.

In short, the two boys are not getting on and there has been a lengthy exchange between the two boys and both boys have sent texts that they shouldn't have. Interestingly both REDACTED and CLC have been identified as bullies (of other boys). In short, both boys are at fault and I think being told to pull their heads in and learn to get on chat is all that is needed. I'm happy to provide one!

Regards,
Andrew

Hi sir,

At lunch today a stink-bomb was thrown into my room, i opened my door immediately and saw someone run into REDACTED and [REDACTED] room. I walked in there and asked who threw the stink bomb. I knew it was one of them because they went to KD the afternoon before. They constantly exclude me and use my name as an insult and now they have stink bombed my room, i had to use 2 cans of deodorant and the smell is still extremely bad. The boys that were in the room were as follows: REDACTED, REDACTED, REDACTED, REDACTED and REDACTED (A day boy). They Came into my room minutes later sarcastically laughing and making comments like 'who would do this' 'who stinks in this room', They claim they cant come into my room at any point. REDACTED antagonised me by commenting on my friendship with other people. All 4 of the broughton boys also enjoy to laugh and point at anyone who i walk, talk or do anything which making them more inclined to not come near me all together. REDACTED admitted to throwing the stink bomb. and the file i have attached is REDACTED telling me he is starting to bully me. He is taking small snippets of the texts that are from my part and he is taking them and showing them to the MOD (Mr Kavanagh) and is showing them completely out of context. REDACTED is as we speak showing the other boys in my year and emailing it around as he just told me he would.
