Re: AVL, New South Wales Police Service, Bondi, NSW_____

CERTIFICATION OF RECORDS COPIES (Custodian's Initials _____)

I, the duly authorized Custodian of the Records for the Corporate Security Department of United Airlines, Inc. (the "Company"), hereby certify that, to the best of my information and belief, the records enclosed herewith are true and correct copies of the records subpoenaed in the above described cause of action/investigation.

As such, the records were maintained in the ordinary course of such business by employees of the Company at or near the time of the acts, conditions or events recorded therein.

The enclosed _____ pages are copies of the original of such records, as described, and no other non-confidential documents relating to the records requested in the above noted action can be found or are available, after due search.

CERTIFICATION OF NO RECORDS (Custodian's Initials JM)

No Records are maintained from the time period requested

I, the duly authorized Custodian of the Records for the Corporate Security Department of the Company, hereby certify that a thorough search has been made for the records subpoenaed in the above described cause of action/investigation.

Said records may in fact exist, but said records, to the best of our information and belief, are not in our possession at this time.

Our record retention policy for payroll records is current year plus four previous years.

I declare under the penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed this 25 day of June, 2013.
