My Dear CKH

I feel it is almost sacrilege to write on such a card as this – one should frame it, look upon it & do whatever arises naturally! however I did think you could add it to your collection – but don't leave it under any beds this time !!

The first week of school (& Griffith) has been very dreary indeed – especially after the stimulations of the 2 weeks in Newcastle. It doesn't however take long to get back into the swing after ones hermits (monks!) life in Griffith.

I haven't passed on your letter to your mother yet, but expect I'll do so tomorrow (Sat.) if I see her at SMAF. Your dad featured on REDACTED making comment on recent REDACTED budget cut backs. He spoke quite well, although I think it was somewhat above the head of the interviewer. Your dad used some 2 syllable words which confused the poor man!

I wonder how that poor REDACTED boy (the one you had the hots for – I think ! ?) is getting on. He certainly seems as though he needs some stable friends. But I suppose we all go through periods of instability so I hope things settle down for him soon. I don't think Graeme needs to much of that kind of drama too soon in his time there.

This weekend looks like a tremendous one !! Lawn mowing tomorrow – wedding in afternoon. Music Cluh (? illegible) soprano recital (yawn, yawn) in the evening – my turn to cook lunch for David & Pa- (illegible) Johnson & that's all. What I really need (or want!) is a little more of last Friday night, even if it does mean washing the bedspread after! I'd settle for only the last adjective below – though I think the 2 would be interesting to try some time!

Hope your work is progressing smoothly. I must away to the bank & to post this before 5pm
