Hi Paul,

can u give me a call please.

REDACTED

the fact of the matter is that my affidavit put simply provides a list of witnesses for which the crown claims prejudice.

it is not a list of witnesses for which the crown does not claim prejudice.

to think otherwise would be to believe that 99.5 per cent of witnesses in this matter are dead and the other .5 cannot remember.

if the list of witnesses is broadened to include those witnesses i have contacted then they would all have to be interviewed and all statements tendered which would make a limitation hearing simply a hearing of the full case.

cheers
peter
