NOTICE: TENDENCY EVIDENCE

PURSUANT TO : SECTION 97 OF THE EVIDENCE ACT 1995 NSW
MATTER : PROSECUTION of PHILIP WILLIAM DOYLE
REFERENCE : H38688428
2009/00194799
DPP CASES NO : 200921346

Notice is hereby given that the Prosecution presently intends to adduce evidence of "tendency" pursuant to the tendency rule in sub-section 97(1) of the Evidence Act 1995, ie. evidence of the character, reputation or conduct of a person, or tendency that a person has or had to prove that a person has or had a tendency (whether because of the person's character or otherwise) to act in a particular way or to have a particular state of mind.

1. The person whose "tendency" is the subject of the evidence sought to be adduced is the accused, Philip William DOYLE.
2. The tendency sought to be proved is his tendency to act in a particular way, namely to:
  1. To have a sexual interest in young male employees
  2. To engage in sexual activities with young male employees
  3. To use his position of authority to obtain access to young male employees so that he could engage in sexual activity with them.
  4. And, to have a particular state of mind, namely to have a sexual interest in young male employees

The activities which the Accused engaged in which demonstrate the tendencies described above include the proclivity of the Accused:

- (a) to be alone with young male employees in a cinema
- (b) to have young male employees alone with him in his car
- (c) to drive young male employees home, and pick them up from school;

- (d) to reward the young male employees with gifts, special trips, and other things, including but not limited to:
- i. Taking them to the speedway;
  - ii. Taking them to lunch;
  - iii. Taking them swimming;
  - iv. Taking them for rides in vintage cars;
  - v. Allowing them to watch films without charge
  - vi. Taking <sup>CFJ</sup> [redacted] to see films
  - vii. Taking Kevin Whitley to see the Beatles
- (e) by forming a strong emotional bond fulfilling the role of trusted older brother, friend or mentor;
- (f) to establish trust through their work roles;
- (g) to normalise nudity or partial nudity in the context of their relationship;
- (h) to discuss sexual topics or behaviours;
- (i) to carry out sexual activity with the boys in a secluded area created by the circumstances of their trust of him being in the empty cinema, a locked section of the cinema, in the car between locations, or at a house;
- (j) by using emotional manipulation through the offer of rewards, or guilt to encourage sexual activity;
- (k) by establishing norms of sexual behaviour before escalating to different activities; and
- (l) by telling the complainant, not to tell and/or that it was their secret

3. The substance of the "tendency" evidence which the Prosecution intends to adduce is contained within the following itemised documents which have been previously served upon you.
