File Note: I spoke with Jason today from JIRT Parramatta and he advised that it is a long investigation as we have to get all the computers analysed and we have quite a few. The computers haven't even been half done and they need to be gone into thoroughly. Can't give a definite idea of when this will be.

Jason advised that he has a meeting tonight with  to see if they still want to bat on with it.

Jason advised that if we want to talk to him he is happy for us to do this but we are not to discuss the details of the case. He advised that if wanted to talk to him we could say something along the lines of "we have identified you as a person of causing harm"

Jason said that he is very smart and wont' sepak without his solicitor. He said the solicitor is not a very nice person and he tries to bamboozle you with a lot of big words.

Jason said the important thing is to not end up in a conversation about what the allegations are as he will twist it and he will tape it so he can use it against us. Jason said this is why we are treading very carefully with this matter.

I asked if there was anyone that we could speak to to speed things up. He advised that it is specialists in the field that do the computers, but they are apply macs as well so it makes it harder. Jason said the problem is that it is borderline about whether we are going to be able to charge him. Without the computer evidence it is not as strong so it is so important to get it right.
