File Note: Mary Jane from Parramatta JIRT called to advise that the police have been quite busy at the moment and she has been asked to give us a call to let us know where we stand. In relation to Grant Davis, the perpetrator, the case is still in brief with the barrister and waiting on further forensic evidence and is taking longer than we like but nothing has eventuated as a result.

Mary Jane spoke with Team Leader, Sergeant Kirsty Hales and unfortunately they understand where we are coming from but they need to think and make sure they do not do anything to jeopardise the case and are not ready to approach Grant at this stage. Mary Jane advised that if we do have to approach him as result of allegations or approach victims that when we are talking to them not to mention anything else.

Mary Jane advised that they are just as frustrated as we are but this is the advice they have been given. They cannot act unless they have all the evidence. They are little bit understaffed at the moment and it is difficult to get a hold of anyone.
