Emotional

Emotionally this has affected me and my family. This case has brought up a lot of sad memories of my childhood. Because of what happened to me as a child I do not attend churches or where any religious or Christian people are. I now believe that all Christian's, all religious people are bad people because of what happened to me.

I have never shared this with my immediate family because I was very ashamed of it. I haven't done any counselling because of the way I feel. I feel angry and hurt because of what happened to me as a child. I feel I have lost my childhood.

I find now that I am very protective of my family because I don't want them to go through the same things as me. I will feel a lot more better after this case is over and done with. It has taken a lot of strength and courage from me to come and talk about what happened all those years ago.
