12th Sept. 91Hi

I've been thinking about you a lot lately & I've started this letter maybe a dozen times in the past 6 months or so. I've decided to get straight to the point & I hope you'll understand that my intentions are true & from my  & I have absolutely no expectations of a reply or a response. I'm simply putting this out to you with love & humility. Here goes:

Over the past 18 months or so I've really looked hard & ruthlessly at myself & my life & I've learnt a lot of things.

Basically I do feel we are responsible for ourselves & our lives & at the same time we are not islands; we interact & bounce off one another & our karmas mix & join. I want to make the most of my life this time around & deal with as much as I can with those in my life, so as not to perpetuate patterns next time.

With this in view, I'd like to sincerely apologize for any lack of understanding or knowledge on my part which caused my actions towards you to be painful, unfair or ignorant at any time in your life.

If you ever feel the need to resolve any issues with me about anything, I extend an open invitation to call any time. I offer you my honesty & support for this. I realize this may be a totally unnecessary offer, you having come so far, & so wonderfully in your life. It's important for me to express this & I however, perhaps even more necessary than for you to hear it.

There's a part of APL [redacted] inside of me, & I guess she will always be there as we are all
 one. I honour her place there & offer her my love & acceptance.

Love
