Dear Ms [REDACTED]

Suspension of positive notice letter and blue card

I am writing to tell you that the positive notice and blue card I issued to the following person is immediately suspended:

Name: Robert Andrew Ross
 Date of Birth: [REDACTED] 1940

I am required to tell you of the suspension as you are the volunteer co-ordinator on Blue Card Services' records.

Your obligations

As a result of the suspension you must not allow this person to work or volunteer in regulated employment (see attachment). If you fail to comply you may incur a penalty of up to $22,000.

You must not terminate this person's employment or continued employment solely or mainly because their positive notice and blue card has been suspended. A person whose positive notice and blue card is suspended may be employed or engaged in a role that is not regulated employment. You must also be aware that:

- compliance with the Act overrides any other Act or law, or any industrial award or agreement, and
- an employer does not incur any liability because, in compliance with the Act, the employer does not employ, or continue to employ, the person in regulated employment.

Suspension period

The positive notice and blue card will remain suspended until:

- I receive a request in writing from the person to cancel their suspended positive notice and blue card, or
- I decide to issue the person with a further positive notice and blue card, or
- I decide to issue the person with a negative notice.

I will notify you of the decision if my records indicate that you are still the employer when the decision is made.

Blue card holder obligations

I have written to Mr Ross advising that they are required to return their positive notice and blue card to me within 7 days.

If you have any questions please telephone Blue Card Services on 1800 113 611 or 3211 6999 or visit our website at www.bluecard.qld.gov.au.

Yours sincerely
