Dear Ms AWI I understand from Alan Studley the Acting CEO that he spoke to you while you were in Australia. If you are still in Australia please feel free to visit me. We cannot be sure that we have identified Harry, but we have involved the police to assist us, and things will evolve over the coming weeks. I don't believe there is any prospect of court action and the associated publicity because identification and proof are very difficult. I would ask you to consider discussing your feelings with a professional even though you said you don't need help. Regards. John
