AW

Thank you for the below correspondence concerning your Parent Forum scheduled for 8.00pm on Thursday 24 November 2011 at the Cronulla Centre Hall, and for confirming that...

'as stated in my telephone conversation with you the motivation for Parent Forum is to discuss Child protection practices in OSHC in general and to make recommendations as to how parents believe that practices should change in order to effectively implement Child Protection Policies. I assure you that I/we will do everything to respect and not jeopardise the ongoing police investigation and to make it very clear to all participants that the suppression order is to be maintained'.

This is an extremely important point from the perspective of the criminal investigation. You will need to establish clear ground rules at the commencement of your forum that advises participants, (1) that you will not be discussing the police investigation, (2) a suppression and non-publication order exists preventing the release of the details of the alleged offender and any victims, (3) anyone with information that may assist the investigation should make contact with Kogarah JIRT on 95536399 or Crime Stoppers 1800 333000, and (4) anyone that believes their child may have been subject to abuse should contact the Child Protection Helpline on 132111.

Given the fact that you do not know the number of people that will attend, and you are discussing an extremely emotive topic you will need a strong facilitator who can control the proceedings and ensure that the event does not steer away from your intention and become a venue for discussing the investigation.

I have discussed your forum with the Miranda Local Area Commander Superintendent Antonjuk so as per your letter please continue consultation with the Youth or Crime Prevention Officer to determine if they are available to provide parents information on protective behaviours for their children.

per our conversation I would advise against recording the forum, but if you decide to you will need to obtain the consent of participants so as to not breach the Surveillance Devices Act.

At your request I have included a section from the Court Suppression and Non-Publication Orders Act 2010 detailing the legal consequences of contravening an order. Any additional information on legislation or offence definitions can be obtained through the 'Austlii' website.

16 Contravention of order

(1) A person commits an offence if the person engages in conduct that constitutes a contravention of a suppression order or non-publication order and is reckless as to whether the conduct constitutes a contravention of a suppression order or non-publication order.

Maximum penalty: 1,000 penalty units or imprisonment for 12 months, or both, for an individual or 5,000 penalty units for a body corporate.

(2) Conduct that constitutes an offence under this section may be punished as a contempt of court even though it could be punished as an offence.

(3) Conduct that constitutes an offence under this section may be punished as an offence even though it could be punished as a contempt of court.

(4) If conduct constitutes both an offence under this section and a contempt of court, the offender is not liable to be punished twice.
