Further charges to be laid following child assaults – Kogarah Joint Investigation Response Team

Issued at 6am, Tuesday 29 November 2011

A childcare worker currently before court on charges relating to the alleged indecent assaults of eight children will be charged with further offences when he faces court today (Tuesday 29 November 2011).

The 24-year-old man was arrested last month following investigations by the Kogarah Joint Investigation Response Team (JIRT).

Joint Investigation Response Teams are specialist units which investigate crimes against children and comprise detectives from State Crime Command's Joint Investigation Response Squad and caseworkers from the Department of Family and Community Services.

Last month, 14 charges were laid against the man relating to alleged indecent assaults upon eight boys aged between eight and 11. He remains in custody.

The man will additionally be charged with two counts of aggravated sexual assault and five counts of aggravated indecent assault when he appears at Sutherland Local Court today.

The charges relate to four boys, aged from six to nine, who were allegedly assaulted while in childcare in the Sutherland Shire.

Inquiries by detectives under Strike Force Regiment are continuing.

Parents or carers with concerns of serious risk of harm to their children should contact the Child Protection Helpline on 132 111.
