Dear Simon

Friday August 31 2007

Church of England North Coast Children's Home

I am in receipt of your letter and with great disappointment realise there is nothing more I can expect from you with confidence.

I would have expected it was evident that this case was over.

I feel I cannot morally accept the 'compassionate' offer. It was not given in genuine remorse and on reflection I am deeply sorry I deluded myself in the belief justice would be done.

In hindsight there is so much to be regretful of.

We have had a meeting; correspondence that has been revealing, disgusting, intimidating and down-right untruthful, but still we continue to look for healing and validation of the abuses inflicted on us.

We have been successful in proving that the church was the licensing body and were indeed responsible.

Before this is concluded would you please tell me when you were aware we did not have a case that would be legally valid? And do we not get a detailed apology if we do not accept their offer?

I look forward to your response as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely - CA
