Hi Michael,
 Hope things are going as smoothly as can be expected. I realise the names of your three clergy have been released in the media so it must be a very difficult time. My former husband worked at Newcastle Cathedral as his first curacy so Graeme Lawrence was very close to him and is our daughter's god father. There will be many people with many mixed emotions over all this. Go well!

On another matter, Pat has recently resigned as Registrar and now only works part time in the office as Business Adviser (he also works part time at a local solicitor so he can complete his law degree). Consequently I have been appointed by the Bishop as Acting Registrar. Formerly Pat was, along with the Bishop, the other person with authority to access the National Register. What happens now? Do I replace him? Or is that the Bishop's decision?

Thanks

Rosie
