Dear Alex,

Greetings once again from MRRC!

I wrote to you on Friday after I left a message on your phone. I also included a letter with that for Gerardine & Tony.

Since then I have done a lot of reflection and thinking, as we are in the cells 22 hours a day and my cell mate is very quiet. I think that the two incidents you spoke to me about did happen as I do now vaguely remember something about them.

I think that there was an occasion when DK did feel uncomfortable with me though I still cannot remember doing what he said I did. But as I said I do not know that I was not aware of how my affection caused so much discomfort but I do accept that now totally.

I also vaguely remember Andrew coming to my dorm looking for DK, annoyed that he was not where he was supposed to be and had not asked permission. I also have a vague memory of when I said sorry to me he told me he was not angry at all with me just with DK.

I am sorry that I did not remember this earlier. But I wanted to let you know as soon as possible so as to take full responsibility for any hurt and discomfort I have caused.

I rang Greg Walsh today as my cell-mate is very keen to have Greg represent him. I did mention that you had visited me and spoke to me about some matters, especially the civil suit Parkinson is organising. He said he would ring you even though I did not ask him to. So if Greg has rung you that is how it came about.

Thanks Alex, have a good Autumn.
It is much cooler here.

All the best,

Ross

P.S. I have not been stressed or anxious when trying to remember - so that has also been a good thing!
