I would appreciate that. She said she feels her complaint is sufficiently serious to involve a bishop. It apparently took her a while to reach that conclusion after she was told a bishop would be there.

I have had the discussion that sometimes it is more important to have a person who can actively participate in the process.

Hello. He is the Deacon, it should be in the contact details. He is probably better than the Bishop. But let me see if I can get the Bishop. Emma

Yes, I will book a room at Pat's.
I meant what is Chris Wallace's role in the organisation? That is what Jennifer wants to know.
She was told before a Bishop would be at the facilitation.

Thanks Bernadette. I have emailed through Chris Wallace's details. Will the facilitation take place at Pat Mullins offices?
