Subject: Incident this afternoon

Dear YG

I appreciated you talking to me this afternoon as I was distressed after being verbally attacked at Prep Reception by WY.

I have asked the other staff member in the office at the time to document the incident as I will do.

I appreciated your comments but to suggest it excused her behaviour was wrong. She needs to understand the fine print on a summons and what I said to the questions that I was asked in court was the truth and to suggest her version of the truth is any more correct than mine is also wrong, or that I am not distressed is also wrong. I was proud of how I handled myself as I could have said a lot about what I think and how I am feeling at the moment.

I was disturbed on a number of levels. For one we have not been told as staff who the students were . . . supposedly to protect the innocent. To come into Admin and announce who she was and proceed to abuse me was not in any way helpful to her cause. And for what reason? Did anything I say get YJ off? Is he not where they want him? I would have been prepared for the knives to be out if he had been cleared on all charges but to come and attack me, in a public place, in front of two students, REDACTED, and a fellow staff member was not called for.

I will not hesitate to ask for a restraining order if she cannot conduct her feelings in the correct manner.
